Ideas (in no particular order):

1. "Stick it to the man" type website; how to be private online and have media literacy
2. Balisong reviews and tutorials on how to flip and maintain them
3. Articles on historical context of different bank notes
4. Study guides for AP classes
5. Developer logs on video game mods and other video game projects
6. Discussions about specific game mechanics (video game design)
7. Guide to playing Deadlock for FPS newbies
8. Guides to getting all achievements in various video games
9. Blog about my experiences living in Saudi Arabia and moving to the US
10. How to actually be productive and get results as a college/high school student
11. Blog about daily driving open-source software
12. Recipes for Bangladeshi dishes (with some backstory)
13. Analyses of movies (their stories, cinematography, and audio)
14. Investigating/fact-checking obscure internet mysteries and conspiracy theories
15. Review historical flags with historical context and review user-created flags